The 2026 Toyota Land Cruiser 300 GXR-G1 is a full-size, off-road-capable 4WD SUV powered by a V6 3.3L diesel engine, paired with an automatic transmission, and configured for 7 seats—so it's aimed at people who want a premium, rugged family/work vehicle that can handle long-distance driving as well as rough terrain. If you tell me where you're located (country + state/province, or at least the country) and what you mean by "GXR-G1" in your listing (sometimes dealer listings vary by market), I can help you confirm the exact equipment list (safety tech, infotainment, drivetrain details like diff/terrain modes, towing specs, wheels/tires), real-world fuel economy expectations, and typical market pricing/availability.

The vehicle model code FJA300L-GNUAYV is powered by a 3,346cc (3.3L) V6 DOHC twin-turbo diesel engine with 302 hp (SAE net) and 71.4 kgm torque at the specified RPM, using a fuel injection system (Euro 4, without OBD) and a dual 110-liter fuel tank. It comes with a 10-speed A/T (multi-mode) and a full-time 4WD system featuring torque sensing centre LSD plus centre & rear diff lock. The setup includes 265/65R18 tires on alloy wheels and power steering with tilt and telescopic adjustment. Braking uses ventilated disc brakes both front and rear, and the suspension consists of independent double wishbone front and a rear 4-link configuration. Safety/vehicle stability systems include ABS, BA, VSC, ATRC, TSC, and HAC, with airbags for driver, passenger, knee airbags (driver+passenger), and curtain/side airbags (front); exterior details include color-keyed front and rear bumpers, color-keyed door handles, and a high mount stop lamp. The mirrors are color-keyed with power, turn signals, and retractable function, and it also includes side steps and a side stripe.

The 2026 Toyota Land Cruiser 300 GXR-G1 features a roof spoiler and a sun/moon roof, with green-tinted windshield glass that includes a top band and heat shield. Inside, it has a 7-inch multi-information display, plus a console box for rear passengers that includes rear A/C vents and a cool box (PVC). Driver controls include 3 drive modes (Normal / Eco / Sport), an electrochromic auto-dimming inner rear-view mirror, and seating for 7 with suede fabric upholstery. Power-adjusted features include a power driver seat with vertical seat adjustment (powered), and seat belt arrangements with 3-point belts for front and multiple belts for the rear (including child restraint support with ISOFIX/CRS seat mount points x2). The second row uses a 40:20:40 configuration, headrests are provided for all rows (driver/passenger plus 2nd/3rd row headrests). Comfort and convenience include leather steering wheel with audio, multi-information, Bluetooth, cruise control, and voice controls, illuminated entry system, smart key/keyless entry for driver+passenger with back (low push-start), glass integrated power antenna, power door locks and power windows, and an integrated rear window defogger, intermittent front and rear wipers. Audio includes AM/FM radio with an 8-inch display audio unit and 6 speakers.
