The 2026 Toyota Hilux Double Cab Pickup GLX combines dependable performance, rugged capability, and everyday practicality. It is powered by a 2.7L four-cylinder, 16-valve DOHC EFI petrol engine with Dual VVT-i, producing 164 HP and 25 kg-m of torque. A 6-speed automatic transmission delivers smooth power, while the 4WD system supports confident driving across varied road surfaces and terrain. The Hilux GLX rides on 265/65 R17 all-terrain alloy wheels with a steel spare tire. With five seats, an 80-liter fuel tank, and practical pickup-bed space, it offers a versatile solution for family, business, work, and recreational daily requirements.

The exterior features a GLX badge, chrome and metallic-black radiator grille, front steel bumper, halogen headlamps, front fog lamps, LED rear combination lamps, and a high-mount LED stop lamp. Side steps, front and rear mudguards, side stripes, black-out pillars, and a bedliner enhance functionality and durability. Power outer mirrors with integrated turn signals improve visibility, while green glass provides a practical finish. Inside, the cabin features superior fabric seats, separate front seats, adjustable headrests, a vertically adjustable driver seat, and a slide-adjustable passenger seat. A 60/40 tip-up rear bench accommodates three passengers and provides useful flexibility, comfort, and convenience.

The Hilux GLX provides a comfortable and connected cabin with an 8-inch Display Audio system supporting AM/FM radio, USB, and Bluetooth, along with four speakers. Automatic air conditioning with rear AC vents helps maintain comfortable temperatures, while cruise control supports relaxed highway driving. Keyless entry, power door locks, automatic driver-side window operation with jam protection, and steering controls add convenience. Safety equipment includes a driver knee airbag, three-point ELR front seat belts with pretensioners and force limiters, rear camera, and LED rear lighting. Overall, the 2026 Toyota Hilux GLX delivers a practical combination of performance, utility, comfort, and 4WD capability.
